

HYUNDAI REAR COMPARTMENT LOCKS

General information as follows:

1. Key blank references are for the profile only, using one of the more well-known blank numbers. This list does not include all variations of different head shapes, lengths, or transponders, the main object is to identify which key profile enters the lock.
2. Locks are only available coded with keys unless noted otherwise.
3. Identify which tumblers and keying kits to use according to the separate chart organized by the key blank numbers. Also note that unique to Hyundai and Kia, for some key profiles there may be 2 different tumblers designs used. You may need to compare the tumblers from the lock that you are working on to the tumblers in your kits to be sure.
4. Items marked DWO are discontinued when out. The part numbers are listed for the benefit of those who already have stock.
5. There are other situations unique to Hyundai and Kia that you need to keep in mind:
 - a. Although at one time Hyundai and Kia were different companies, they are now the same company. Because of that there are Hyundai applications which use Kia part numbers, and Kia applications which use Hyundai part numbers.
 - b. In model changeover years there may be 2 different versions of the same car name sold as the same year model. The official Hyundai and Kia information separates the two by “old body style” and “new body style”. Your customer may not know the difference, but you can use the keyway as another way to check.
 - c. There are some model ranges where 2 different keyways may be used on cars coming from the factory. We have listed both keyways when known, but replacement locks are not always available with the specific keyway needed. There may be some applications where it will not be possible to rekey to the original car key because the lock with the exact keyway is no longer available. Be sure to read all the way through the notes for information to help you do as much as possible to service your customer using parts that are still available.
